

Test sentences for quantification annotation:

1. Some of the students passed the exam.
2. The chairman read out the items on the agenda.
3. Are the Marx Brothers famous?
4. Have you finished your assignment?
5. Bill didn't see a misprint.
6. Bob and Alice own an apartment in Acapulco.
7. A man who walks in the park whistles.
8. Mary visits a museum every day.
9. Some people visited the museum in Amsterdam two or three times.
10. John wants to catch a fish.
11. Not all the students failed the exam.
12. John found an apartment with a balcony that overlooks the central square.
13. Only elderly men and women participate in these exercises.
14. I didn't know that Mary had a car.
15. Every man loves his mother.
16. A train leaves every hour to Boston.
17. These machines combine 12 parts.
18. TWO committee members came in. [emphasis on "two"]
19. The boys carried the boxes upstairs.
20. The judge checked all the evidence three times.

The current version of the working draft in preparation for an ISO standard for quantification annotation can be consulted at https://sigsem.uvt.nl/isa17/WD_24617-12_Quantification_54P.pdf/
Note that this document is copyright protected. It may only be consulted for academic purposes; it may not be downloaded, printed, or distributed.